校長話：新高中的理想與現實 – 妥協的策略

3.3.4 新學制的最大好處，是將原來 F.5 及 F.7 的兩個公開考試，削減為 F.6 的一個中學文憑試，讓學生減少了考試的制約，因而能夠有更多的空間作全面發展。

何謂全面發展？就是在學業以外，學生能夠多做運動，欣賞音樂與美術，參觀遊歷，同儕協作，義工助人，緊貼社會脈膊，關心世界發展……，向「高分低能」說不。

不難看出，全人發展與升學機會很有可能出現矛盾。特別是本港大學學位少，又大量收外來生，本地學生只有 20% 有幸踏進大學之門，要大家放心花時間精力投入與入學考試「無關」的活動，談何容易。

但是，新高中制度提供了寶貴的空間，如果不將其善用於全人發展，就等於進入寶山空手而回，倒不如恢復舊制度百分之一百的應試教育。

理想與現實如何平衡，需要各方人士尋求妥協的策略。一般而言，家長雖然認同了全人教育的理念，但是總是先要子女十拿九穩取得入大學資格才放心，觀乎實際環境才支持子女參與全人發展的活動；家長們的合理期望是可以理解的。

面對這種矛盾，本校提出的策略是：

- (1) 精讀精考，保證升學先行，但不是升學歷倒一切。

具體做法是：學生選讀科目足夠即止，做到少而精；各科水平達到召之則來，來之能戰，戰之能勝的境界。這樣，保障了入大學基本要求之後，學生還有精力時間投入學業以外的全人發展活動。

- (2) 老師與家長重視學生全人發展，為學生提供多元化的全人發展經歷，文化素養培訓，義工遊學，演辯創作，閱讀寫作等活動，從而保證學生在高中三年，德智體群美各方面都有所增益，達到大學「其他學習經歷」的要求，取得寶貴的成長經驗，為豐盛人生打好基礎。

這個兼顧理想與現實的妥協策略，將會是成功的策略，請家長理解和支持。

We can no longer tolerate such unruly behaviour in Legco

By Stephen Leung Ho-keung

(Letters to the Editor, South China Morning Post, Mar 01, 2009)

I could not believe my eyes when I saw what the three legislators from the League of Social Democrats were doing inside the chamber during Financial Secretary John Tsang Chun-wah's delivery of the budget ("Half the legislature condemns latest chamber antics from League", February 26).

I think all Hong Kong citizens will share my views on this matter. As Mr. Tsang said, the delivery of the budget is such a serious occasion because it concerns more than 7 million people. Since Hong Kong has been critically affected by the economic downturn, the budget is particularly important as we face such hard times.

Besides, the Legislative Council chamber is a solemn place where the most significant issues of the city are being discussed. Therefore, everyone inside that chamber must have the greatest respect for the occasion and they should behave properly. Moreover, Hong Kong is an international city of which we are all proud. The city's image will surely be damaged if other people see these legislators' uncivil behaviour. They have been elected to work for society, not to bring it into disrepute. I wonder if the league's legislators had given any thought about the consequences of their actions before they carried out their protest. We have to consider if they qualify as lawmakers, given their emotional outbursts.

Of course, we must respect freedom of speech. All voices should have a chance to be heard. However, protests should be based on the premises that are held in a peaceful manner. Rude, destructive or any other kind of unreasonable behaviour must be curbed. We must stop it before it develops into a culture in the Legco chamber. Such protests are absolutely intolerable.

Since this was not the first time these legislators have disrupted the proceedings of Legco and oral persuasion cannot deter them, severer punishments such as heavy fines or even refusing of admittance to the chamber should be considered.

Behaviour of league lawmakers in Legco was totally unacceptable

By Charlie Chan Wing-tai, Sha Tin

(Letters to the Editor, South China Morning Post, Mar 08, 2009)

Stephen Leung Ho-keung rightly pointed out that protests such as the one staged by the three legislators from the League of Social Democrats during the financial secretary's budget speech are absolutely intolerable ("We can no longer tolerate such unruly behaviour in Legco", March 1). As Mr Leung said we must respect freedom of speech. All voices should have a chance to be heard.

Legislators have every right to express their views. However, they also have a responsibility to respect other people. The behaviour of the league legislators showed a lack of respect for Financial Secretary John Tsang Chun-wah.

This kind of unreasonable and uncivil behaviour is intolerable. Even though some legislators may be tempted to express their views or act in ways that are less than civil, we must preserve our virtues, including tolerance and peace. We must maintain our civility as we evolve towards full democracy. We must stop this kind of behaviour as soon as possible. If it develops into a culture in Legco, our city's image will be damaged.

To avoid such unruly behaviour in the chamber, as Mr Leung said, severer punishment is needed. The rules governing members' behaviour must be tightened. I was pleased that the Democratic Party and Civic Party issued a rare joint statement criticizing the league's protest actions.
