

Hillary Clinton

The election day is close, the chaos between the two candidates are intense. Both of the candidates are neither a good choice to vote for. From what I observed, this election has not much to do with politics, but humanity and honesty.

People said "Voting for Hillary Clinton brings cancer to America, when voting for Donald Trump gives America a heart attack."

Many people recognised Trump as a mad billionaire, however, the polls showed that Trump is having a large group of supporters that there might be a chance of winning. At first I was like "Did the country get mad?", I have absolutely no idea why people are voting for him. However, there must be some reasons that Donald Trump is more preferable than Hillary Clinton for the people in the States. (I am not saying that I support Hillary Clinton or Donald Trump. I am only writing about Hillary Clinton because most people might not know about the reasons why some Americans do not support her.)

Firstly, her scandals. The most critical one must be the "Email Controversy". She had done a fatal mistake! As an ICT student, this is a pretty serious issue. Hillary didn't use the officially approved email-server, instead, she used her private email server. The official server can offer protection for confidential documents while her private email server is extremely risky and dangerous. On the other hand, the official one should be able to monitor her activities on the email account, concluding when she received emails, etc. However, the private one was personal. In that case, she can delete any confidential email without any permission which might place the entire country in danger. After the public discovered this scandal and the FBI was involved, she said she had deleted a large number of "PRIVATE" emails, which affected her image on honesty and trustworthiness.

Secondly, her politics. Hillary was once the secretary of the States. Her strong, harsh and stale politics triggered the anger of the Americans. However, this is one of the pros of hers as well as she was experienced in dealing with politics.

Thirdly, her health problems. While people were mocking at Trump's speech in the debate, which he used "stamina" for three times in a sentence, Hillary's health conditions are highly alerted by people. She had shown a few bizarre movements in the public, for example nodding her head disorderly and her eyes have very weird movements. I kind of got terrified by them. People were doubting if she has a seizure disorder or Parkinson's disease as she is showing some symptoms of the above diseases. Whether Hillary Clinton can manage the country while having bad health conditions sway the Americans' ballots.

Lastly, her husband, Bill Clinton, was the president of the US in the 90s, who was accused for sexual misconduct which is ironic that his wife is a feminist. Also, the Whitewater Scandal that the Clinton couple was involved. Therefore, people has very bad impression for them.

However, we don't know the truth. This election is very important for the planet as the US is very powerful, especially Hillary Clinton said "the nuclear weapon is on the table". This is a tough choice for the Americans, every ballot they held is more important than the lottery ticket. Now we just have to wait and see what the destiny of the US is.
