

4E Cheung Ka Fai, Jason

From: Mrs Liu

Dear all,

This is just a note to tell you who I am. Jason is my name. I was born in 2001 and now I'm 14 years old. I have been promoted from 3B to 4E. There are my parents and a sister in my family, including me of course! (Sorry about my bad humor)

As for my personality, I think I'm quite a talented buy and just a little bit lazy. I love reading and thinking. When I was a kid, I saw the moon hanging in the sky, wondering why the moon was shiny. I tried to find out the answer and eventually I did. Besides the books about science, I'm also keen on reading something about history, politics and culture to broaden my horizon. However, I don't study for the exam diligently even during the exam week. But still, I manage to gain a neat result with my gift. How lucky I am! By the way, "think twice before you act" is my motto. So you can tell I'm a cautious person as well.

So much for that, I'd like to talk about something I like and dislike. I consider eating the most enjoyable activity in the entire world. I love the feeling of gulping the food down which makes me feel satisfied. On the contrary, I hate exams. It's a heavy burden to me as I have to do revision, which means I have less time to play. I sometimes neglect it though. To be frank, I would love schooling if there was no exam.

This new school year is full of fresh duties and plans for me. First, I just need to study 4 core subjects and 3 electives – Information and Communication Technology, Mathematics Module 2 and Physics. Second, I become the subject leader of Liberal Studies, which is a new challenge to me. Also, I will try my best to participate in some extra-curricular activities. These are the new plans and duties. But on the other hand, the fact that it increases my burden scares me. Despite all difficulties, I will try my best.

Looking forward to you reply.

All the best,

Jason
